

DREAM ANIME CHRONICLES

ISSUE
#3

FEATHERS
FOR THE CROWD

CELEBRITY
DEATHMATCH
ISLAND

Black Feather
was the island's
impossible champion.

Wings
gave them
the sky.

Claws
gave them the
close fight.

The crowd
gave
them attention.

CELEBRITY DEATHMATCH
TURNED A HAUNTED SCHOOL
INTO A BATTLEFIELD.

EVERY CORRIDOR WATCHED.
EVERY TREE LINE LISTENED.

TONIGHT, THE PRODUCERS
OFFERED A CHALLENGER
BUILT TO PUNISH VANITY.

Black Feather
struck first for
the cameras.

They let the wings fill the
whole screen.

They smiled
before the hit
landed.

The challenger
aimed at
the pose.

Applause
became
a target.

So
Black Feather
chose speed.

They turned
the school
towers into a
black-winged
blur.

Every
camera
followed.

Every
camera
betrayed
the route.

The sky felt smaller when
the crowd
knew where
to look.

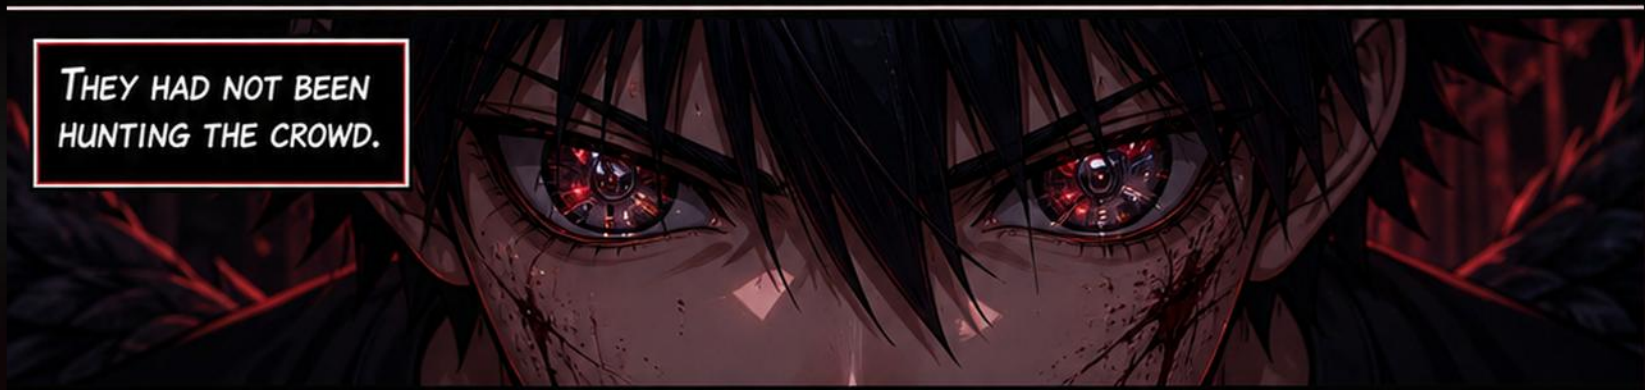

BLACK FEATHER
HEARD THE ISLAND
CHANTING.

FOR THE FIRST TIME,
IT SOUNDED LIKE
A LEASH.

THEY HAD NOT BEEN
HUNTING THE CROWD.

THE CROWD HAD BEEN HUNTING
THEM.

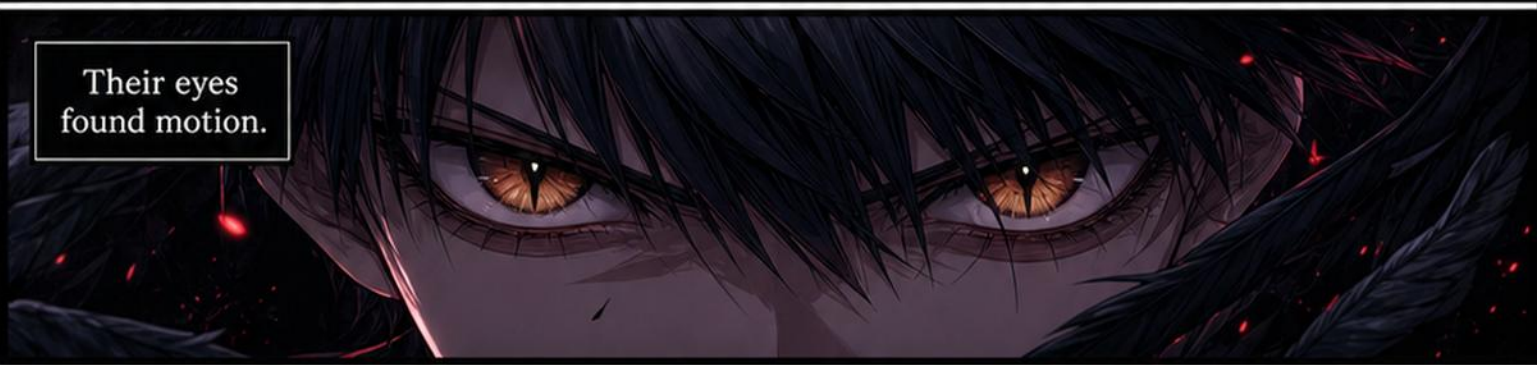

Black Feather
stopped
performing.

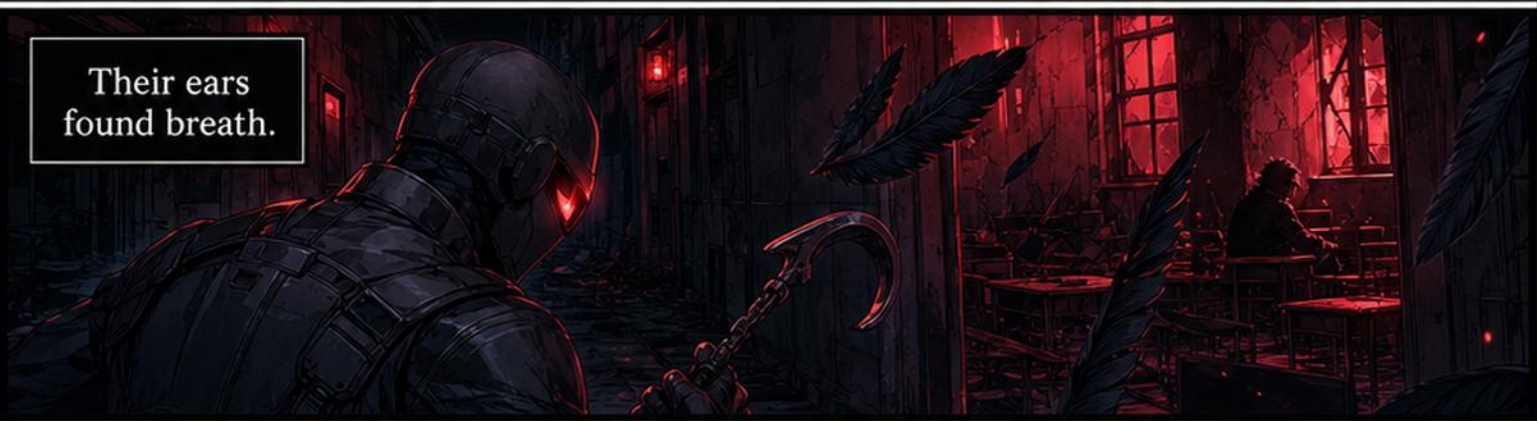

They cut
the lights.

Their eyes
found motion.

Their ears
found breath.

The match
finally belonged
to the predator.

The challenger
swung at
empty air.

Black Feather
struck from
the quiet.

The crowd
forgot to cheer.

Black Feather
decided silence
was also worship.

Black Feather is a pale human-bird hybrid with black wings, clawed hands, sharp senses, and a hunger for fame.

On Celebrity Deathmatch Island, the crowd becomes a weakness when Black Feather performs for applause instead of hunting to survive.

After a masked challenger uses cameras and spotlights against them, Black Feather cuts the lights, trusts their senses, and wins from the darkness.

Their true power is choosing when the world is allowed to see them.

