

SUPERHERO MANDROID

THE STRONGEST HUMAN

The spike hit the sensors like a portal tearing open.

Mandroid did not wait for the sky to split.

Demons had learned disguises.

His rocket fists found the fastest path across the city.

The signal
led to the park.

At the center
of the signal,
no portal waited.

Only a man breathing like a storm held still.

Master Liang Chen
opened his eyes.

He bowed before the android hero.

He had made
the signal bright
enough to be found.

MANDROID ASKED IF HE NEEDED HELP.

LIANG SAID YES.

THEN HE CROSSED THE DISTANCE IN ONE BREATH.

THE PUNCH LANDED LIKE A FALLING WALL.

METAL BENT UNDER HUMAN HANDS.

LIANG HAD FINALLY FOUND A CHALLENGE.

Mandroid refused to fight for boredom.

He chose distance.

Liang chose pursuit.

Chi lifted him higher than any human should leap.

The kick found Mandroid in the clouds.

Only Liang landed softly.

Annoyance finally sparked through Mandroid's restraint.

He set the rocket fists to taser mode.

Liang answered with circles.

Taichi turned force without breaking it.

The fists came home wrong.

The holo shield caught the blast.

Through the smoke,
Liang charged.

One chi punch
carried all his pride.

Mandroid stopped flying forward.

He fired sideways.

The missed strike
kept going.

The oldest tree
in the park shattered.

Mandroid raised the shield for everyone nearby.

Liang tried to catch every splinter.

Human speed still had limits.

The challenge ended in a hospital bed.

Mandroid wondered how far humans would go to prove their strength.
